It is pointed out that the new Italian front, although the enforced retirement to it was marked by heavy iosses in men and material, affords the strategic advantage of being straighter and shorter than the old line, and therefore theoretically is easier to defend. With the known strong concentration of Austrian and German forces against the Italians, however, there exists the menace to this line of a flanking thrust from the North. We Have More Buyers----More Room----And Better Facilities

Than we ever have had since this market has been in operation. We are prepared to cope with any market in this section of the State. We haven't been advertising as some of our neighboring markets are this year. We have learned that farmers don't care so much for an advertisement. It is the price for his tobacco that satisfies the wants of the tobacco grower.

Our Market is Owned and Controlled by Farmers

And not by a bunch of town men who don't have the real sympathy for the old farmer at heart as one who knows just what hard honest toil it takes to grow a plant of tobacco.

We Haven't a Man in Our Employ that Didn't Come From a Farm

Fight to End of Chapter.

Petrograd, Monday, Oct. 29. Foreign Minister Terestchenko, addressing the preliminary parliament today, said a separate peace was impossible and that defense of Russian territory was one of the fundamental needs.

The Foreign Minister said the absolute independence of Cour land and perhaps of Poland and Lithuania, was impossible, as it would mean that Russia would return to the days before Peter. He also asserted complete demobilization and disarmament and neutralization of canals and straits were impossible. Russia's foreign policy had not changed, the Minister continued since the first statement enunciating the principles of no indemnities, no annexations and the right of nations to self-de-

"The people must understand that the war is being carried on not by governments, but by nations," he added. "As the nations began the fighting, so they must end it. Russia and France first held back the foes, and so they continue.

M. Terestchenko declared that the offers for a separate peace and the sentiment in favor of them were strongest last May, when they were followed by the Russian offensive.

"There is a rumor that the allies wished to leave Russia to her fate," the Foreign Minister continued, "but I state officially meaning of the blow at Italy. that it is untrue.

"Germany's aim is to separate Russiz from the allies and if possible, to do this by peaceful means, in order to use Russia economically afterward.

"While the other nations at war are unable to continue civil industry. Germany has been so well organized from the begincontinue her efforts to carry on trade. She looks upon Russia as her market. Therefore, the defense of Russian territory is one of the fundamental needs now, for if Germany gets into G. K. Rexroat has moved to his Russia commercially, after the war, we shall have no self-definition afterward."

MORE PEACE TALK.

"There never has been more peace talk in Germany and Aus tria than now," said the minister. "I am confident Germany was insincere in the reported recent offer for the freedom of Belgium, without the freedom of Alsace-Lorraine, and in the intimation that this would be her last offer. She will make more.

"Germany is now concentrating her efforts to affect her enemies economically. For instance her attack on Riga was not strategical, but in pursuance of a far-H. E. Lay and son, J. T. Lay, have sighted policy of striking at our weakest point, hoping to ruin the economic life of the country. Too much importance must not be given to today's Italian defeat, as this also is for mere economic effect."

attacking in Italy entirely for Thanksgiving Will be Differe political reasons, while the allies are attacking in France entirely for military reasons.

The summing up is, in the main, correct. The Germans cannot hope to win the war by their blow against Italy. They may hope that by a great success in that quarter they may so discourage the allies that peace could be negotiated during the present winter, but the German staff knows as well as any other that, if the war goes on, the war must be decided by the outcome of the strife between the armies now facing each other on the plains of Flanders.

We think, however, that the military writer of the New York newspaper some what underestimates the meaning of this drive in Italy in so far as it relates to Austria. If Italy is struck a blow as will prevent her from attacking on the Italian front far six months to come, Austria is secure for the rest of the winter. On the Russian side the fighting has ended. Only on the Italian side was Austria in danger, and that danger seemed for a time acute. To meet it the German staff drew heavily from the whole Russian front, united a dozen of the best corps in the German army with a similar body of fresh Austrian troops, and rushed like a torrent upon the Italians.

It may be some days before the world will know the full That it has partially succeeded cannot be doubted, but, if the Germans and Austrians accomplish nothing more than gaining ground, it may be doubted if the operation can be considered an unqualified success.

Europe is being determined in treason. The charge made Flanders. There the fighting against him is that he is unfit to ning that she has been able to may go on for months or years, sit in the American Congress ed.—Evening Post.

Anxious for Active Service.

Washington, Oct. 30.-Most of the young men called for service in the National Army want to go to France as fighting men and they want to get there quickly.

Reports from five or six of the big training camps, Secretary Baker announced last night, show that when asked what they want to do the great majority of the selectmen say they don't care what their job is to be just so they get to France among the first, and then when given choice between the combatant and noncombatant branches most of them select to be fight-

HOUR OF SACRIFIC IS HERE-REDFIELD

CABINET MEMBER DECLARES EVERY MAN MUST AID IN BEARING NATION'S LOAD:

MENACE IS STALKING ABROAD

Spirit of Conquest Has Polsoned the Very Soui of German People-We Must Unite Against the Common Foo.

Secretary Redfield in the strongest letter he has written since the beginning of the second Liberty Bond Campaign has sent to the employes of the Department of Commerce a letter pointing out the absolute necessity for making almost any sacrifice in order to purchase a Liberty

"I speak of the loan as calling for sacrifice. It ought to be that. It is in its essence a sacred thing laid upon the altar of your country," Secretary Redfield says in his note.

"It can hardly be the mere lending to the government of that which you have to spare. Your own loyal support, so generausly given to the first Liberty Loan, may well make it impossible now to make the second subscriptions which are at once available. It is a real sacrifice for which the country calls," Mr. Redfield continues.

He then reminds employes that a menace has arisen in the world which threatens all humnity. "It has polsoned the very soul of the German people and made the power which now possesses them one whose rule is inconsistent with the peace of the world. That evil power has shown itself and its true nature in the deeds which make the rape of Belgium a world hor-

"The hideous record left behind by German hands in their retreat in northern France speaks eloquently of the nature of the thing we fight. This evil thing opposes every ideal in which Americans have been bred. It is hostile to the spirit of a free people; it seeks to dominate them; it would by force impose its will upon them. It is a cruel, ruthless force, and it will get us If we do not destroy it," the Secretary's letter continues.

Secretary Redfield then reminds the workers that Americans stand today beside the men of all races and ail faiths in a common contest against a foc that threatens all.

"It is to take part, therefore, in a great human-wide struggle that you are called. It will require sacrifice, as I have said. The cause of the sacrifice is a worthy one, and It will not be made in vain," the Secretary mays in closing his letter, which because of its touching appeal and genuine good sense will be given widespriad publicity throughout the United

PURCHASER OF LIBERTY BOND DOUBLY REWARDED

Purchasers of Government Bonds of the second Liberty Loan of 1917 wil! der .ve much comfort from the inves m. nt. first, because of the feeling that they are helping the government, and second, because of the material benefits accruing from the interest paid every six months on the bonds.

Thrift is a virtue more honored in the breach than in the observance in this country, and the preacher of thrift is likely to talk to unwilling ears. For so many years Americans have been conscious of their extravagance, and even somewhat proud of it, that they have a feeling that it would be unworthy for them to skimp.

One of the attractive features of the Liberty Bonds is that the purchaser will not have to keep them until they become due, but can get his money back by selling the bonds any day. But the great comfort that the purchaser will have, will be derived, first, from the thought that he has helped his government in its hour of need, and second, that the money will be working for him days, nights and holidays, and that every six months it will prove that fact by a cash payment.

FARMER TO HELP MAINTAIN FREEDOM HE HELPED WIN

In the first Liberty Loan Camnuch larger than he could afford, be- doing their "bit" in response to the paign, many of the farmers of the country were not reached, and subscriptions from the rural committees were few.

There were several reasons for this, the foremost of which was that the loan was put out in the spring, when they were busy with their crops and the Chicago, Miiwaukee & St. Paul It was difficult for the canvassers to interview them.

Then, too, they had to borrow money for their planting. Now their crops in, and at the present high price of food stuffs they should have a large sum of money in their hands.

For a loan of a portion of that money, the Liberty Bond campaigners are now appealing all over the counheadquarters at Kansas City, is and try. The various farm bureaus and societies are co-operating and good results are expected.

When liberty came to America the farmer helped to bring it. He carried | TELEPHONE CAMPAIGN IS the gun; he contributed unsparingly of his substance; he fed the armies. In the present struggle for universal liberty it is certain he will do no less.

He has already made splendid response to the demand for greater food production. The first loan largely overlooked the farmer - the efforts were concentrated in the cities.

The second campaign should give every opportunity for farmers as individuals and their organizations to support the government in its financial program. It is the highest expression of Americanism that all the people should help carry the common load in this critical hour.

KULTUR MUST BE ENDED NOW FOR ALL TIME

"Buy more Liberty Bonds than you can see your way clear to paying for. Buy them and cut your expenses and use your savings to meet the payments."

This was the message given to Mis souri patriots by R. Goodwin Rhett president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in addressing a meeting of Liberty Loan work ers in St. Louis.

"We must make a sacrifice equal to that which our boys are making. Buying bonds does not fulfill the first principle of this sacrifice," Rhett said. Rhett declared that oratory and publicity will not suffice to make the bond sale a success. He advocated a systematic canvass of every city and every precinct in the nation.

"There can be no peace as long as kultur is a vital force in the world,' Rhett declared. "It must be ended now and forever."

SUCCESS OF LOAN VITAL TO U. S., DECLARES M'ADOO

Failure of the present or any subsequent issue of bonds during the war with Germany would impair the credit of this country, with disastrous results, is the warning being voiced by Secretary of the Treatury McAdoo in his speaking tour of the country in the interest of the Second Liberty

"If the credit of the United States undermined," the Secretary de day to selling Liberty Loan Bonds, clares, "what is property worth to the rich man; what is life worth to the .free man?"

WORKERS HAVE MORE AT STAKE THAN ANY OTHERS

A strong appeal to the workingmen of this country to participate in the second Liberty Loan to the fullest extent has been made by William B. Wilson, secretary of labor.

Secretary Wilson points out that "the workers have more at stake in this great conflict than any others, because it is only in a democracy that the common people can come into their own."

"The great European war la which we are now involved came to the people of the Western Hemisphere as a terrible shock, and to no portion of the people did it come as a greater shock than to the wage-earners of the United States. They believed in and wanted international peace, but they wanted it on a basis of international justice which would insure the right of our people to govern themselves. When the Imperial German Government undertook to destroy the lives of our people and to impose a rule of conduct upon us without our consent in places under the jurisdiction of the United States government, there was no course left but to resist," Secretary Wilson said.

"The workers have more at stake in this conflict than any others, because it is only in a democracy that the common people can come into their own. The great privilege is not given to all of us to serve our country on the battlefield or in the trenches, but there are other ways in which we can serve and assist those who are privileged to carry our flag on the battle fields of Europe. The impulse of sacrifice for the common good is sending the youth of our country into the trenches in defense of Liberty, humanity and democracy.

"To those of us who must of necessity remain at home to tili the soil, harvest the crops, man the factories, mines and mills, the way is open for additional service. We too must make sacrifices. The men who go forth to do battle in the field must be equipped and sustained. Funds must be forthcoming to furnish the food, the firearms and other supplies for the fighting forces of the nation. Finances for that purpose must be secured Immediately from the sale of bonds. The workers can help by contributing their mite.

Combined Efforts Will Win. "I am reminded of the fable of a great drotth when the crops were wasting for the want of water, and one little raindrop said to another in the clouds, 'i would ke to go down to the relief of the farmer and his perishing crops, but I am so little it wen'! be useless.' And another little tim. drop replied, 'It would be useless for you to go down alone, but let us all go down and our combined effort will bring the needed relief.' Teh ad.ice was accepted and a beautiful shower poured down on the land and the crops were saved for the harvest.

"And so it is with the workers. The funds each has available is but a drop, but all of the drops together can make a shower of funds that will furnish the needed supplies, bring joy to the hearts of the boys at the front and consternation to our enemies." Secretary Wilson declared.

PROVING BIG SUCCESS

An endless-chain telephone campaign, to get women to subscribe to the Second Liberty Loan, has been inaugurated with successful results by the Woman's Organization, under the leadership of Mrs. John Holliday, chairman, in the city of St. Louis.

"It is the duty of every woman, says Mrs. Gus V. R. Mechin, president of the St. Louis Woman's Council, "to aid the government in placing the Llberty Bonds. Every woman should buy at least one bond and sell at least one." Mrs. Mechin has two sons in the service.

"Every woman must do her duty," declares Mrs. F. T. Kennedy, wife of Capt. F. T. Kennedy, who now is with-In five mlles of the German trenches. "If she is not trained and equipped for personal service to her country at the front, she can at least inspire and urge her husband, son or brother to do his duty. Further than this, she can aid in the financing of the war, to make it possible for her loved ones to win. If she cannot fight, her money

FARM LABORERS ARE READY BUYERS OF LIBERTY BONDS

One of the big surprises of the Liberty Loan Campaign in rural districts is the way in which the farm laborers are responding to the call.

These men neither own farms nor rent them: they are hired men and are not considered a thrifty or saving group, yet thousands of these laborers are asking about the loan and how they can invest on the installment

The farmers of the country are thoroughly awake to the critical situation confronting the nation and the triple duty they have taken upon themselves. is first to produce food, second to loan money, and third to give their sons and daughters some evidence of the self sacrificing uptrit for which the American farmer is well known in the history of the country.

NATION'S HELP

SPIRIT OF ISRAEL PUTNAM IS NEEDED IN ALL RURAL COM-MUNITIES.

LIBERTY CALLED AND HE WEN

Same Spirit of Freedom is Calling to American People Today-Are You Responding Like a Putnam?

The spirit which actuated Israel Putnam more than a century ago is what is needed in America today, according to men who are in close touch with the war conditions and the affairs of the United States.

Putnam was plowing his none-tooproductive New England field when a horseman dashed up and told him the tale of the British raid on Lexington. It was seeding time and Putnam's field demanded immediate care.

Did he falter or hesitate? Did he procrastinate? No. He left his team in the field still hitched to the plow and hurried away to answer the call of his country. He did not stop to consider the cost of leaving. Liberty was at stake and he was off to the rescue. Liberty is at stake again. Your liberty and the liberty of the rest of the civilized world. Every day the rural mall brings the story with all its dread warning along the winding country road to the Israel Putnams of

But they are not in the fields. They are storing their $2 and $3 wheat, their $2 potatoes and their $2 corn and their $3 onions. They, better than anyone else; know how weil they are responding to the call of liberty.

But it is time that these men, as well as their city brothers awake. Do your bit in placing the second issue of Uncle Sam's Liberty Bonds. Uncle Sam is your friend. But he can do only what you assist him accomplishing with all your might. Get busy, today. Be an Israel Putnam in your community.

ARKANSAS TENANT FARMERS TO BUY LIBERTY LOAN BONDS

"Tenant farmers of Akansas, who in previous years have found it difficult to make both ends meet, are this year going to be liberal buyers of Liberty Bonds," said H. A. Morrison, cashier of the Bank of Commerce. Earl, Crittenden County, Arkansas.

A ten-milijon dollar cotton crop in his county alone explains why this is to come about. Mr. Morrison said that his fellow citizens were showing such enthusiasm in the new bond issue that he came to St. Louis to arrange to supply them with bonds.

"Heretofore," sald Mr. Morrison, "the proceeds of the annual harvest was not sufficient to maintain the farmers until the next crop could be harvested, and it was the custom in April to begin buying food and other necessities on credit. The result was that in the fail it usually took about all the farmer got for his crop to pay his debts and get through the winter.

"This year it is different. The planters arc going to get from 30 to 45 cents a pound for cotton, whereas before they only got from 6 to 10 cents."

"One fine thing about these bonds is that the farmer can use them as legal tender. In case they need money they will find their war bond investment readily negotiable."

Crittenden County's allotment is $81,000, but Mr. Morrison is going to try to dispose of $135,000 worth there.

JIM DALE

By Eilis Parker Butler. Young Jimmy Dale, across our street,

Is just a gawky lad. He grew so fast, the doctors said. His heart was mighty bad: They wouldn't let him do much work Or any hearty play, But, just the same, they drafted Jim. And Jim has gone away. Jim was a sort of great, big kid. And fooling all the while; So, when they ordered him to camp. He went there with a smile.

Jim Dale is in the army now, Lank legs, bum heart and all, To fight like other drafted men That got the country's call. God, yes! Jim's heart may drop him dead Or he may live to be Shot all to pieces "over there"-What odds to you or me? By thunder! it's these odds to you!-If kids like Jim can go, With smiles, to fight our wars for us We can put up the dough.

If we can buy a bond or two And DON'T, while Jim, poor cuse, Goes smiling off to death or wounds Then hell's too good for us.

Barger Leads Chicks in Next Dixie Race.

The following was written by Herbert Caldwell and published in the Memphis Appeal.

Ezra C. "Cy" Barger will be entrusted with the destinies of the Memphis Chickasaws in the 1918 Southern League pennant race. Without a dissenting voice the managerial mantle was voted Barger last night at a meeting of the Memphis club.

Although it is understood that there were other applicants for the position, Barger's name was the only one presented. When Barger's name was presented there was a brief discussion, followed by unanimous vote for him.

Wearing the managerial robe of the Chickasaw will be nothing new to Barger, although it will be the first time he has faced the Southern League barrier as pilot of the Tribesmen. During the last two months of the 1916 season Barger had charge of the team during the illness of George Moriarty, the manager, May 28 last season Barger succeeded Mike Donlin deposed as the Chick chi f following a Sabbath farce at Russwood engineered by Don-

Potatoes are now $1.75 per bushel, corn meal 6 cents per pound, fresh meat from 38 to 55 cents per pound, chickens $I each, apples $1.60 per bushels, butter 50 cents per pound, eggs 50 per dozen, sugar 10 cents per pound and only 2 pounds to a customer, coal $8 per ton and none to buy. The dealers say they can't buy it. I have about two or three bushels now. The street car men here in Hamilton went on a strike last Sunday morning. No city cars or interurban running here or between Cincinnati and Dayton. To-night's paper says no settlement in sight yet. The Ford owners are reaping a harvest now. The Adair County Missionary Convention.

.The Missionary Convention convened at Cane Vailey, Friday night, Oct, 26, 1917, at 7 o'clock p. m. Pres. F. J. Barger called the house to order and after devotional services, he deilvered an address on the "Ohristian Armor." Tobias Huffaker made an address on "Does God Hear and Answer Prayer." The following preachers were present at the Saturday morning session: H. B. Gwinn, H. Gordon Bennett, L. C. Young, W. G. Montgomery, F. J. Barger, C. C. Lloyd, Tobias Huffaker and Z. T. Williams. Saturday was a rainy day the attendance was small. Good addresses were made by the following preachers: H. B. Gwinn, "The New Third District and Its Needs." W. G. Montgomery, "The Biunder of the Builders." Saturday afternoon sesslon was conducted by the C. W. B. M. of Columbia. Mrs. R. F. Rowe delivered an address on The Origin and Aim of the C. W. B. M., Mrs. Z. T. Williams made an address on The Great Commission and what it means to you. The reports from the churches were then made as follows: There are 17 congregations in the county, ten of them were represented by written reports with the following summary: Membership 1196, addltions 86, paid for Missons $339, for Orphan Home $75. There are ten Bible Schools in these ten churches and nine of them have monthly preaching. The C. W. B. M. made an offering of $61 during tile year. The program was carried out for Saturday and Sunday. H. B. Gwinn preached the sermon Sunday morning. There was a good attendance at both Bible school and church services Sunday morning. A splendld dinner was served on the ground both Saturday and Sunday. The Cane Valley people always serve fine meals on such occasions Judge Jones made a rousing Red Cross speech in the afternoon to a good audience, and received 19 new members. Z. T. Williams was elected President, for the ensuing year, F J. Barger Vice President, Mrs. Maggie Ruberts Secretary. The next convention will be field at Glenville the fast Sunday in Sept., 1918, beginning on Friday night Z. T. Williams.
